Re: Cost of the Income Tax

Dear [Congressperson or Senator last name]:

My name is (Your name here), and I am a voting constituent in your Wisconsin district. I am in favor of the FairTax Act of 2009, U. S. House Bill H. R. 25.

The costs of complying with the income tax system have become obscene, approaching estimates of nearly $500 billion. The FairTax will get rid of the hidden costs of complying with our current income tax system. These compliance costs are a major portion of the hidden taxes people have to pay every year. I want to pay my fair share of taxes but these compliance costs cause my money to be thrown down the drain. When Americans pay these compliance costs they have nothing to show for their money. We have to pay them again next year, and on and on. We should be putting that money to better use. Eliminating those compliance costs for individuals would constitute an ongoing, permanent stimulus to our economy. Imagine that money being available for personal consumption.

We need your help in getting the FairTax passed into law. We would at the same time reduce the cost of operating the IRS, saving taxpayers even more. As you may know, the IRS regularly receives the lowest approval rating of any governmental agency or service. Many Americans would idolize you for helping to get rid of the IRS on an individual wage earning level.

I would truly enjoy writing a letter to praise you in this matter should the FairTax become law. Won't you help us by cosponsoring our bill in the House and helping us bring it to a vote?

Thank You.

Respectfully,

(Your name here)
